This articles on the Bakken oil trains is an interesting read especially in light of the fact that Targa and US Oil is already transporting this through our areas.

At yesterday's LEPC meeting in Tacoma, the representative from WA STATE (DEQ) Environmental Quality (Ron Holcolm, I believe was his name) mentioned the Bakken oil rail cars already coming through our area as one of the issues they are concerned about in case of incident/accident/spill and Hazmat response/readiness capabilities etc for Pierce/King county areas.

Mr. Holcom mentioned that the State is concerned about the rail cars carrying Bakken oil because of the high Benzene levels/high flammability of the oil coming into the up the Columbia River and through the Tideflats in Piece County. There seemed to be a little push back from Targa rep – Matthew Kolata re: the high benzene/flammability issue.
